

S'more Pops

There's nothing like hot S'mores around a campfire. But, what if your group really wants S'mores and you don't have a campfire handy? The solution – S'more Pops. These treats are great for make ahead fun. They have all the flavors of a S'more, but you won't need a campfire to enjoy them. They are perfect for an "indoor" camping adventure. Find more yummy recipes as well as fun craft activities at: www.Kidfunideas.com

What you'll need:

- Wooden craft sticks
- $\frac{3}{4}$  cup Chocolate Chips
- $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon vegetable oil
- Jumbo size Marshmallows
- Graham Crackers
- Wax Paper

How to make it:

1. Place one marshmallow on the end of a wooden craft stick. Repeat for as many pops as you would like. Set them aside.
2. Take a piece of wax paper and spray it with a little nonstick cooking spray.
3. To melt the chocolate: Put the chocolate chips in a microwave safe dish. Add the vegetable oil and stir. Put the chocolate into the microwave and cook on high for twenty seconds at a time, taking it out and stirring between cook times until the chocolate is melted.
4. Place two graham crackers into a ziplock bag and crush them into crumbs with the heel of your hand or a rolling pin. Then, pour them into a shallow bowl.
5. To Assemble your Pops: Take the skewered pop and roll in the melted chocolate, then dip the pop in the cracker crumbs, rolling to coat. Place the pops on the sprayed wax paper to cool completely. Store in a cool dry place or the refrigerator until ready to serve.