

King of the Castle Crown

What better way to let Dad know he's King of the castle on Father's Day then by making him a crown for his special day! Find more fun craft activities at: Kidfunideas.com

What you'll need:

- Kidfunideas crown printout
- Scissors
- Tape
- Cardstock or laminating machine
- Glue stick

How to make it:

1. Download the crown pattern and make 1-2 copies depending on the size of your Dad's head.
2. Cut out the crown shape and glue to cardstock, trimming away the excess paper around the crown image. We used yellow cardstock so our crown really stands out.
3. If you are using a laminating machine, cut out your crown shape and laminate the image. Trim away excess lamination.
4. Measure your Dad's head and use as many crown sections as needed trimming away the overlap. Tape the crown sections together and you are done!

Best Dad Ever!
