

Marshmallow Igloo Picture

This really fun kid's seasonal craft is a great to make during those cold days when you are stuck inside. We glued marshmallows to paper to make an igloo and pasted down a number of arctic animals. Find more fun crafts and activities for kids at: www.Kidfunideas

What you'll need:

- Igloo pattern and arctic animal printouts
- Construction paper: blue and white
- Glue stick
- Scissors
- Grey crayon
- Scrap of yellow paper
- White glue and mini Marshmallows or Cotton balls

How to make it:

1. Print out our Igloo and Arctic animal printouts and cut them out.
2. Take your white piece of paper and cutting lengthwise, cut out one or two wavy shapes. This will be the snow where all your animals and igloo sit. Leave some blue area for sky and water.
3. Place your animals and igloo around your landscape and glue them into place with glue stick.
4. Use your grey crayon to draw in some shadows on the white paper to indicate little hills.
5. Next use white glue to glue marshmallows or cotton balls into the squares of the igloo for a 3D look. (Tip: old stale marshmallows work best. Don't be afraid to smooch them down to fit your squares) Let your marshmallows dry.

6. Use a scrap of yellow paper to make a sun and glue it into the sky. That's it. A fun art scene.
