

Polar Bear Paper Bag Puppet

Here's a fun and easy kid's craft that fits in nicely with our Arctic theme. This cute little polar bear puppet has just caught his lunch and is ready to play. It's a fun craft to make and play with during the winter or any time you want a quick easy project. Find more fun crafts and activities for kids at:

www.Kidfunideas.com

What you'll need:

- White lunch size paper bag
- Glue Stick
- Colored construction paper: White/Black/Blue/Grey
- Black Marker
- Scissors

How to make it:

1. Print out the Polar Bear puppet pattern and cut the pieces out of the paper color indicated on the pattern.
2. For the head: glue on the eyes, nose, eyebrows and inner ear shapes. Draw in the mouth below the nose. Attach the head to the paper bag on the flap.
3. For the main body: Lift the bag flap and glue the arm piece under the flap at the crease. Next, lift the arms and glue the leg piece to the bag at the waist. Lift the arms and glue on the oval tummy piece.
4. For the arms and feet: Glue the two claw pieces to each of the arm at the hands. Glue the toes on the feet. Glue the fish to the hands.

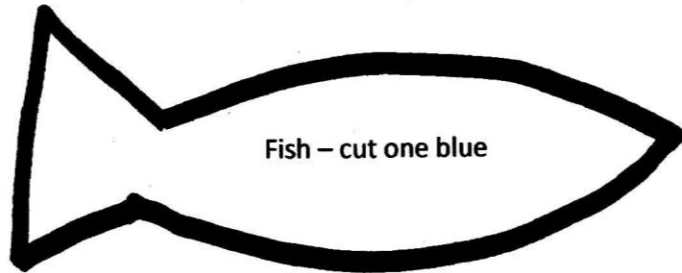

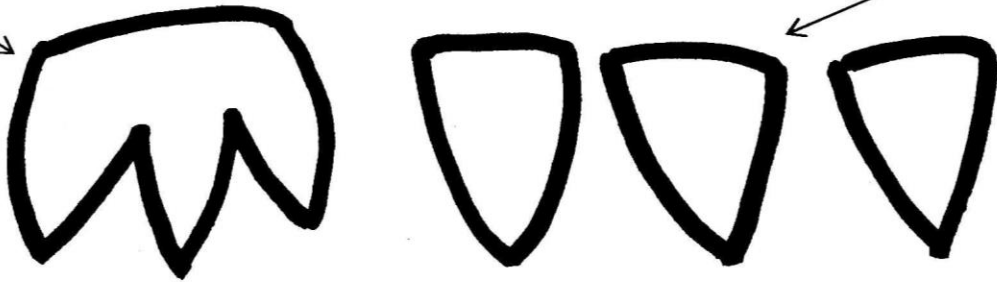

Polar Bear Face –
cut one from white

Arm piece – cut one
from white

Arm claws – cut 2 from black

Feet claws –cut 6 from black

Fish – cut one blue

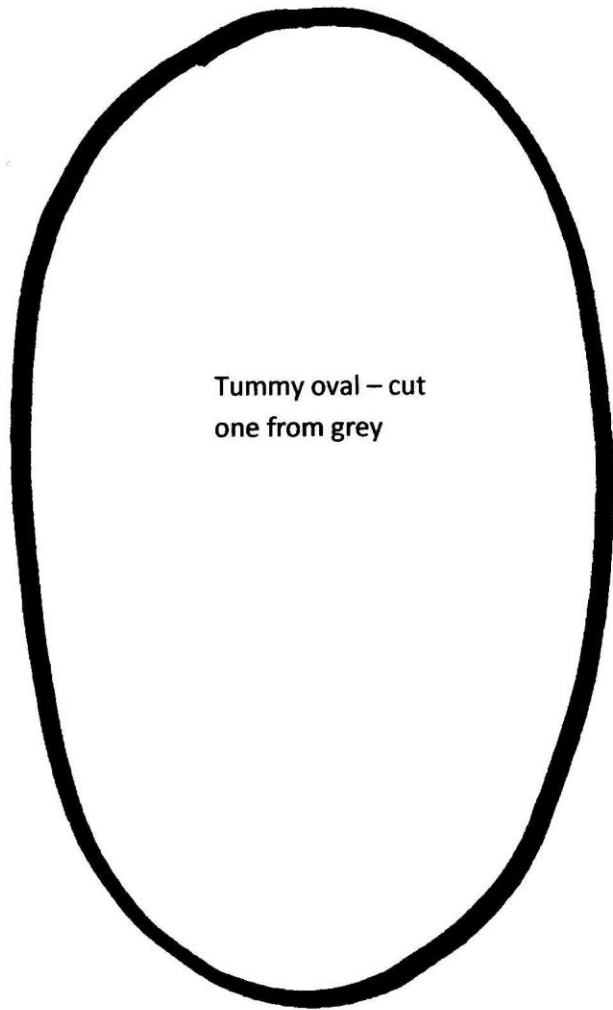

Eyebrow and inner ear
– cut 2 each from grey

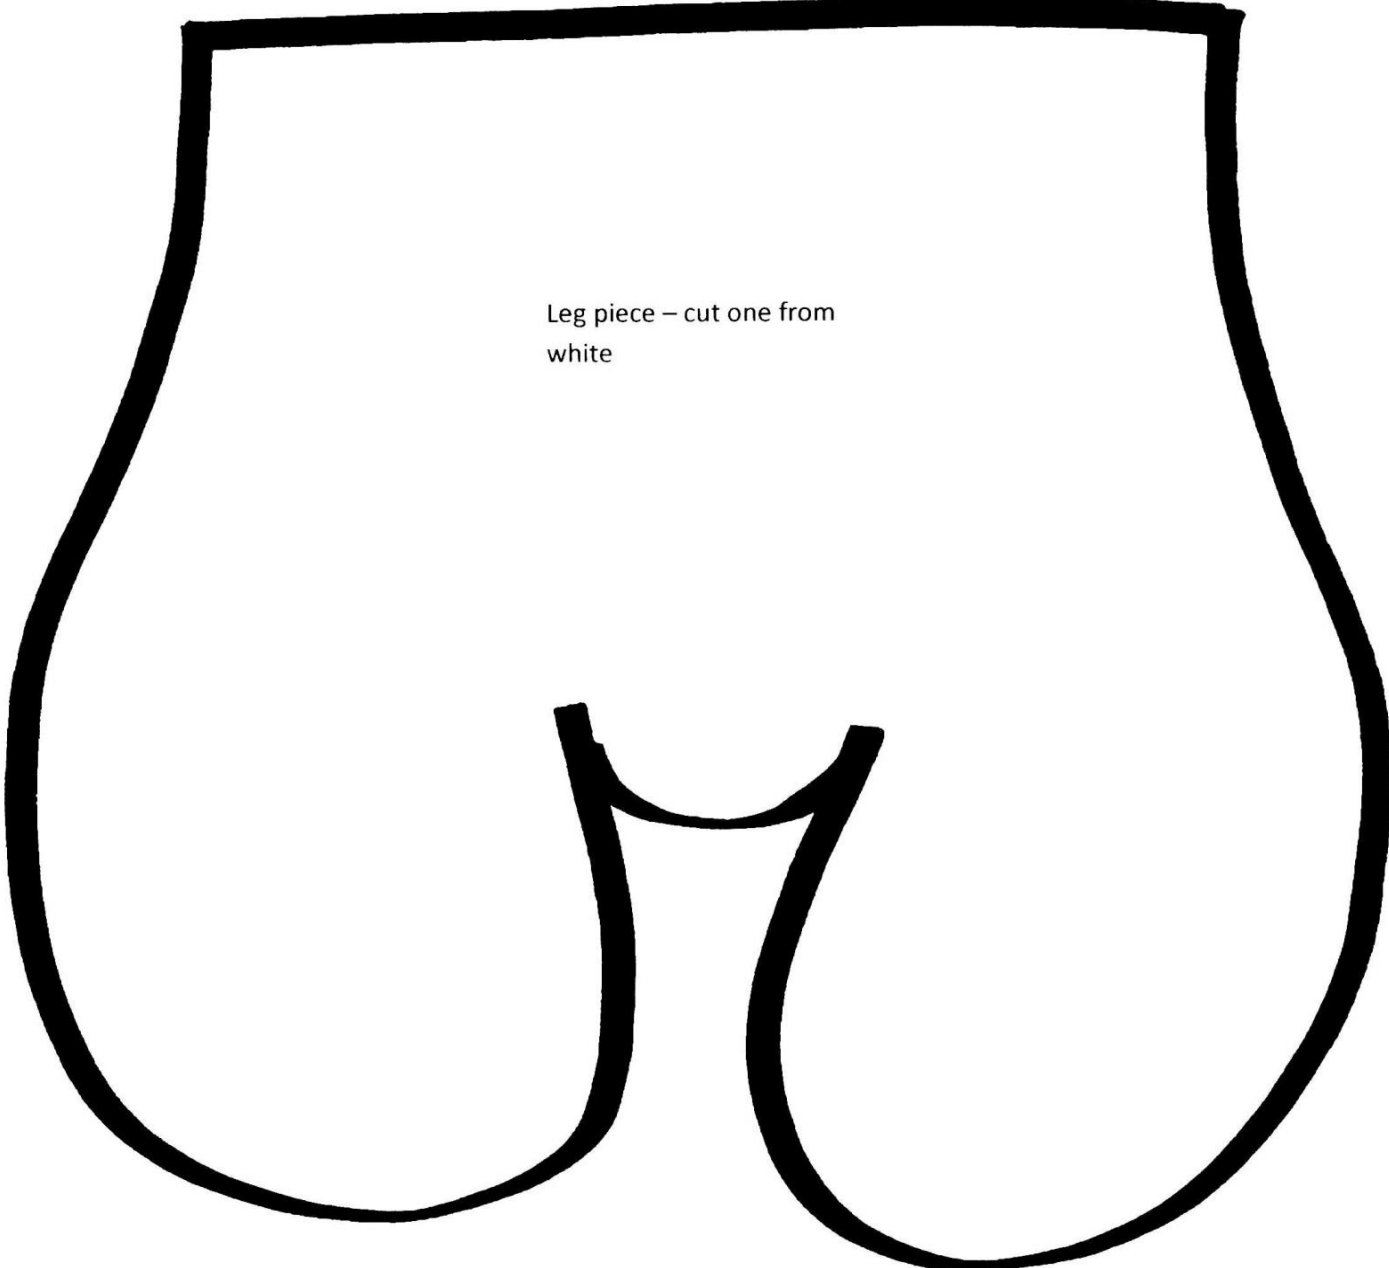

Eye – 2
black

Nose – cut one
from black

Tummy oval – cut one from grey

Leg piece – cut one from white