

Valentine Heart Paper Airplanes

This easy Valentine's Day kid's craft project is very quick and easy. In no time at all your heart planes will take wing in this fun to make craft. Use your imagination and decorate your heart plane with stickers or glitter or crayons and markers. Find more fun crafts and activities for kids at: www.Kidfunideas.com

What you'll need:

- 12 x 18" Construction Paper: red, white or pink
- Scissors
- Stapler
- Hole punch
- Pipe cleaner: red, white or pink
- Crayons, markers, stickers, glitter to decorate

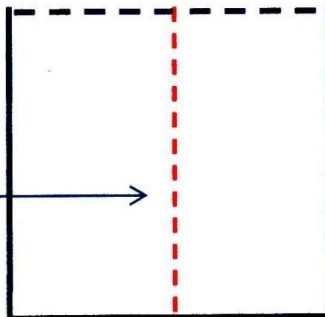

How to do it:

To make the airplane, lay your paper on a flat surface.

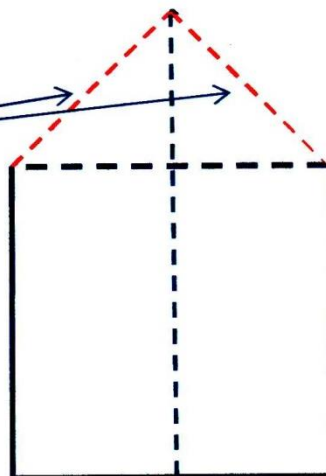

Take your 12 x 18" piece of paper and fold the 12" side down 6"

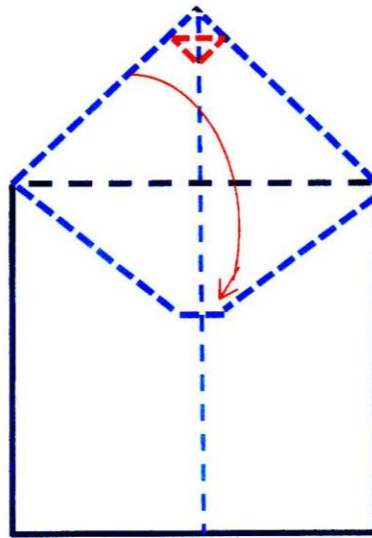

Make your next fold down the center of the paper lengthwise. Crease, then unfold it

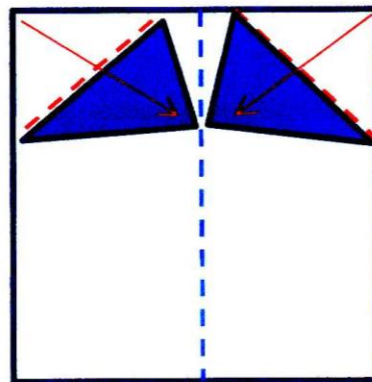

Fold the two top corners down to the center fold and crease

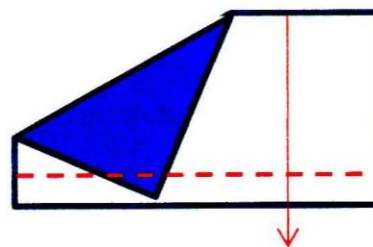

Fold the tip of the plane down 1" towards the first fold & crease. Then refold the top half down

Turn the paper over and 1" on either side of the center fold, bring the top corners to the center fold and crease. Fold the paper in half in the center

Fold the 2 sides of the airplane down on either side of the center fold $\frac{1}{2}$ " from the center fold and crease.

After you have made the folds to make your plane, cut out the heart shape and fold where indicated on the pattern. Decorate your heart with googly eyes, pipe cleaner arms and staple it into the top of the center fold of the airplane at the bottom.

Fine tuning the plane: After decorating the plane with markers, stickers, or crayons, fold up the side flaps of the airplane and let her fly. If your plane dives straight down, bend the back of the plane edges up.

